Those who have a Microsoft account can use it to take notes and make audio recordings, which they can even share and edit together as a team – thus it is excellent for group work as well.

Users can have multiple notebooks in which they can create sections and tabs.

- Switch between touch and mouse: If you're using OneNote on a Touch device, you can add this switch to the Quick Access Toolbar.
